

Aware Recovery Care improves patient access to care by utilizing a whole patient approach.

Our In-Home Addiction Treatment works around the clients' schedule and in their home for a full year, completing the continuum of care.

We deploy a multi-disciplinary team to drive outcomes by delivering a bio-psycho-social curriculum to treat the client and their family which has lead to a client engaged rate 300% higher than the national average.

Research shows that maintaining abstinence for a year dramatically improves a person's chance of sustained recovery from less than 10% to over 80%.¹

- Our services are provided at home and in the community, in the location where the learned behavior patterns, problems and risks of relapse occur, rather than in a traditional inpatient, group or clinic setting.
- We provide care utilizing the successful home healthcare archetype of delivery and associated regulatory requirements and integrating the best practices of substance use disorder treatment.
- Our In-Home Addiction Treatment offers medically-integrated, multi-modal treatment for alcohol and substance use disorders, maximizing access to care while minimizing interruptions to daily life. It helps people "Recover Where You Live" with an emphasis on the home or transitional living environment, unique family dynamic, and the broader community around the individual.
